

THE SCHOOLHOUSE CURRICULUM

At the Schoolhouse, we commit ourselves to lead our business in a sustainable way. Being sustainable means also increasing people awareness about environmental, social and cultural issues, and about how to deal with the coming world.

Also who is the best audience for that except children?

As a continuation of that thinking process, we have decided to launch the Schoolhouse Curriculum, a set of short programs designed for primary school kids and based on concrete examples taking place in Mutianyu village.

The Schoolhouse Curriculum leads children to be in contact with nature and encourages them to respect all kinds of life. Its goal is to explain, through simple words and amusing activities, current important issues related to sustainable development.

There are 3 curricula, each of them focused on a specific issue we deal with at The Schoolhouse. They are then all designed to preferably take place in our village but, as long as you find a nice kitchen garden or an orchard, you can perform these courses!
